"Name a Future Legend" AHA Launches a Name-the-Foal Contest for the 2014 National Show Season

(11-June-14 – AURORA, CO) – The Arabian Horse Association (AHA) announced today the launch of a 'name-the-foal' contest for their members and horse enthusiasts alike, during the 2014 National Show season.

Carrying over from a "Hall of Legends" promotion from the 2013 U.S. National Arabian & Half-Arabian Championship Horse Show, the contest will be called "Name a Future Legend." AHA members, as well as outside participants will be allowed to submit names for an unborn foal throughout the months of July, August, and September. The winning name will be chosen and announced at the 2014 U.S. National Arabian & Half-Arabian Championship Horse Show in Tulsa, Okla., in October. The foal will be registered with AHA with the winning name. The contestant whose name was chosen will receive a 1-year membership to AHA, an engraved bracelet of the foal's name, and the recognition of having named the foal.

Chris and Shan Wilson of ChriShan Park Arabians of Springfield, MO have graciously donated a 2015, unborn foal to be named for the contest. Sired by CSP Grand Caymon (Mamage x JJ Sioux Hope), the foal will have the pedigree of legends. CSP Grand Caymon is an Arabian Breeders Sweepstakes Nominated Sire, standing at stud and in training at ChriShan Park with Shan Wilson. Son of multi-National Champion, Mamage and out of a GG Jabask+/ granddaughter, CSP Grand Caymon could be the next sire of future champions and legends.

The contest will kick-off, Saturday, July 19 at AHA's Youth National Arabian & Half-Arabian Championship Horse Show. Participants at the show, as well as those who are not in attendance will be allowed to submit names via social media, via email, and at AHA's Blue Room booth at four National Events. Rules for the contest and submission details will be announced later this month.

For contest rules, announcements and submission information, please follow the Arabian Horse Association on Facebook or Twitter @AHAArabian.
